Employees of the Orange Belt Auto line were entertained last evening by Manager A. C. Marshall at the Valdez hotel at Sanford. Covers were laid for twenty. It was a get-together meeting of drivers and office employees and was greatly enjoyed by all. The Daytona delegation left here at 7 o'clock and made the trip to Sanford in two hours. They returned at 2 a. m., declaring that the repast was more than they had expected and were enthusiastic in their declaration that Manager Marshall is a prince of good fellows.

IT WAS a slippery corner.
 AND A team of horses.
 WITH A load of coal.
 WAS TRYING hard.
 TO MAKE the turn.
 WHILE THE driver sat,
 ON HIS seat above.
 AND TALKED to them.
 AND ENCOURAGED them.
 AND THE horses trembled.
 WITH EVERY step.
 AND THEIR iron shoes,
 COULD FIND no place.
 WHERE THEY might hold fast.
 AND TRY as they would.
 THE HEAVY load.
 REFUSED TO move.
 AND THE driver got down.
 FROM HIS seat above.
 AND ACROSS the street.
 FOUND A big ash can.
 FILLED UP to the brim.
 AND HE carried it over.
 AND COVERED the road.
 WHERE THE horses stood.
 AND MADE a trail.
 SO THEIR feet held firm.
 WHILE THEY pulled the load.
 AND MADE the turn.
 AND TRIED to go on.
 BUT AGAIN they slipped.

AND ALL the time.
 THE DRIVER man.
 WAS KIND to them.
 AND STROKED their necks.
 AND THEY seemed to know.
 HE WAS their friend.
 AND DID their best.
 BUT ALL in vain.
 AND THEN it was.
 THAT ALL at once.
 THIS DRIVER man.
 USED VERY bad language.
 ABOUT HIS boss.
 AND ABOUT the streets.
 AND THOSE who made 'em.
 AND EVERYTHING else.
 AND UNHARNESSED the horses.
 AND SAID he'd be hanged.
 OR MAYBE worse.
 IF HE'D ask a horse.
 TO PULL that load.
 AND THEY went away.
 THE THREE of them.
 AND LEFT the coal.
 JUST WHERE it stood.
 AND IT wasn't my coal.
 AND I was glad.
 I THANK you.

Thomson & McKinnon's stock letter today says: "Just as the com-controller of the currency publishes a severe criticism of steel and iron interests, charging them with retarding business development through the maintenance of unreasonably high prices for their commodities, there comes an interesting story from Youngstown, Ohio, that the Midvale Steel company has abandoned the schedule of prices of the industrial board and is cutting prices and the suggestion is made that this may mean war for business. Ultimately this will be decidedly favorable because the industry will break away from an artificial price level and while the percentage of profit may be smaller, this will be more than made up by an increased volume of business, but temporarily this is bearish and will be so construed in the market. Still looks to me like an irregular market for the next few weeks with some further reaction likely."

 They are from Ohio and appear to be be from five to ten years before the country will be safe for prohibition.

 With them they have documents showing how active the liquor inter-combat their efforts. They insist the work is going on satisfactorily and that in the end prohibition will be su-

Mrs. Hicks Relieved
By Four Eatonics

"I have taken four Eatonic tablets and they relieved me of sour stomach.
 I recommend it to everybody," says
 Mrs. G. P. Hicks.

If stomach is not digesting your food; if you have sourness, bloating, food repeating, indigestion or acid stomach, Eatonics will remove the cause by taking up and carrying out the acidity and gases, bringing quick relief and healthy digestion. Why suffer stomach trouble? Why not keep your digestion normal and enjoy good health? An Eatonic taken after each meal will prevent discomfort and pain.

Make the test today and see how quickly this wonderful remedy acts.
 It comes in handy tablet form. Carry it with you. A big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

"Why Don't I Get Well?"

Of course you are anxious to get well. But have you been fair to your doctor?

When he gave you your prescription he counted upon the beneficial effect of certain ingredients.

But if your druggist supplied poor quality drugs of uncertain strength and potency the result has possibly been harm instead of good.

Chairman of Republican Ways and Means Committee in Ohio During Late Campaign at Beach

Among the many notable guests at the Seaside Inn during the past few days have been Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Miller and their son, Edward William, and daughter, Frances Ann, of Columbus, Ohio. He is one of the officials and owners of the Goodman Shoe Manufacturing company, which owns and operates four large plants in Ohio's capital city and four others in Lancaster, Ohio, only three miles away. In their operation they employ more than three thousand men and women.

Mr. Miller, during the recent national campaign, was chairman of the Republican Ways and Means Committee for the state of Ohio and as such came in close touch with National Chairman Will H. Hays, which resulted in close personal friendship between the two. He says he found Mr. Hays a prince of a fellow, solid from the ground up, his feet on the ground every minute and a thorough and through patriotic American, without a particle of alloy. He says that Mr. Hays' plan of raising campaign funds in small amounts, direct from the rank and file of the party, is the best and wisest system ever devised in national politics, and he believes that it will hereafter be observed by the Republicans. He became so interested in the work and was so successful in his own state that Chairman Hays induced him to make speeches in behalf of this business method in most of the cities of the middle west, including Indianapolis, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee and many other places. He says the majority for Harding of over 400,000 was about twice what he anticipated. He thinks the cause of this great landslide was a result of the strong anti-Wilson sentiment, the desire of the people for a change, the magnificent and almost matchless Republican candidate and the wonderful organization work of Chairman Hays.

Mr. Miller says that business conditions in Columbus are more nearly normal than most other cities, as it rarely goes to extremes. It is seldom over-prosperous and very rarely has an awful slump. "Our factories," said Mr. Miller, "are now all running and 80 per cent of our regular employees are at work, while in most places the working force will not exceed 40 or 50 per cent. We manufacture about 30,000 shoes per day and we sell directly to the retailers, making use of no jobber or other middle man. We manufacture shoes for everyone. One of our salesmen says that we make shoes for every human being 'from the cradle to the grave.'"

When asked as to the leather market, Mr. Miller said: "This is one great business that has practically been liquidated. I believe the prices of this commodity have struck bottom. They have not as yet reached pre-war prices because of the great demand of the manufacturers who are working. It is different as to hides. They are now below pre-war prices. However, the manufactured product cannot go to pre-war prices because the price of labor will not permit it. While the price of labor may be somewhat reduced, personally I do not think that labor will ever go back to pre-war prices. During the war both labor and capital learned as never before that their interests are practically identical. Labor found out that it was better off when it cooperated harmoniously with capital, and capital found out exactly the same thing with reference to labor. As a result work is more efficient service than ever before, which has resulted in the willingness of the employer to pay a better price for more efficient work."

With reference to the relationship between the employers and employees in his own factories, Mr. Miller said: "We keep in as close touch with our employees as we possibly can. They maintain in our offices their own building and loan association. We donate the space and pay their secretary, but have nothing whatever to do with the management. They make their own loans and draw down their own dividends. Our relations are the most pleasant possible. They have made a remarkable record. They are vigorously pushing the 'home owning' movement and insistently urge that every employee own his own home. A very large per cent of them do already and their association is doing a very large loaning business. They also maintain their own sick benefit association, and we pay a percentage of the cost. We meet their payments with a fixed ratio and we make settlements monthly. We also carry life insurance for all of our employees, the size of the policies ranging from five hundred to three thousand dollars, according to the length of service, beginning when an employee has been with us six months. We pay all the premiums out of the face of the policy is paid to their dependants in case of death. We do this so that our employees will not be so apt to be coming and going or to be drifters. Of course, when an employee leaves us the insurance is cancelled. This insurance system also carries with it nursing services, the cost of which is also provided for in the insurance premiums. We also employ a first class man, known as an employee's welfare man. He gives his entire service to the employees. In case of illness of the employee or his family or any other trouble that may come to them, he goes right to them, makes himself familiar with the situation and acts as their adviser and helper without the least cost to them. In two of our plants, where it is some distance from other accommodations, we maintain cafeterias for the benefit of the employees."

In speaking of the personnel of his employees, Mr. Miller said:

"We make all of our employees to order, as it were. We make foremen of the boys we take from the beach; we make superintendents of the foremen and we make managers of the superintendents. For this reason our force of workers are unusually young in years. For instance, when the draft came for young men to go to the war, finally calling for those between 18 and 45 years, there was but one man in our entire organization, including executives as well as factory workers over the latter age. All others were subject to the draft."

Mr. Miller said that while the shoe manufacturing business was growing very rapidly in the West and that while in St. Louis there is now probably the largest shoe factory in the world, the East has lost nothing and just as many shoes are being made there as ever and probably more. The East is not losing, but the West is gaining.

During the past few years Mr. Miller has visited many popular summer resorts, but he is particularly delighted with this one. He says this beach

Industry Captain of Delaware Is at Beach for Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mendenhall, with their son, Charles P. Mendenhall of New Castle, Del., are at the Daytona Beach hotel for a stay of several weeks. Mr. Mendenhall was for years one of the captains of industry of his state, having been extensively engaged in shipbuilding and other manufacturing. He has, however, practically retired from active business, but he retains his interest and official position in the Security Trust and Safe Deposit company of Wilmington.

This is Mr. Mendenhall's first visit here and he is delighted with his surroundings. "From what I have been able to see," he said to a News reporter, "you have the room and the opportunity for wonderful improvement. We have arrived here from several other resorts in the state, including Miami. You have the grandest beach I have ever seen, but I can't understand how your people tolerate a toll bridge in this day and age in the world. Everything of that kind is free in Miami, but you have advantages here that will count over any resort I have seen if you get rid of that bridge that make your guests pay a tax every time they enter or leave your city. It seems to me it would affect people on both sides of the river. People stopping in Daytona, it seems to me, will want to come over and see the beach once in a while. People are willing to pay when they get value received, but they don't like the idea of an unnecessary tax every time they turn around."

Mr. Mendenhall expresses the opinion that Liberty Bonds will soon be at par and that they are today the best security in the world. He says there is still a good many idle men in the North, but that things are beginning to look brighter and that all kinds of business is beginning to hold up its head.

Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall expect to spend some weeks here.

It is simply wonderful and that this to him is an ideal spot. "It looks to me," he said, "that this city has only just begun to develop and that wonderful possibilities are in the future for it. This can readily be made a place of rare beauty, and certainly nature has done its part to make it one of the most popular resorts in the world."

Mr. Miller came here almost direct from the National Shoe Dealers' meeting at Milwaukee, where he made the chief address of the convention, the full text of which appears in the official organ of that association.

He knows George F. Johnson of the Endicott-Johnson company well, and has the highest regard for him. Of him he said: "Mr. Johnson's great factory is in direct competition with ours, as the lines of our production are very similar. He has done marvelous things for his employees and they respect and love him. The working conditions in his factory are in the main controlled by the welfare, convenience and health of the workers. I do not know how they could be better. He is certainly one of the highest minded and just manufacturers in the world. It is a pleasure to have such a man as a competitor."

Mr. Miller was called away on business on Saturday, but his family will remain here with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Mancourt of Detroit until some time later.

Tourists Enjoy Picnic on Beach; Meet Afterwards

As the weather was ideal several hundred tourists, with their local friends, spent yesterday on the beach between ten and two o'clock. It was the occasion of the first general picnic of the Triple City tourists this year, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all taking advantage of the opportunity. Dr. E. T. Wilson, president of the National Tourists' club, and Mrs. A. M. Griffith, secretary, were there early to look after the comfort of all who came and to attend to the introductions so that people might get acquainted and make new friends.

Basket lunches were served during the noon hour, the visitors bringing all but the coffee, which was donated by the club. From the beach the crowd adjourned to the Auditorium at 2 o'clock for the regular weekly meeting.

E. H. Tuller of New York City has just arrived and is located at 1012 Main street.

Word has just been received from Billy Sunday's secretary stating that the meeting scheduled for the Triple Cities at the Auditorium will begin February 17. His first sermon will be preached in the afternoon on that day and from then on until the close of his campaign on the 27th. He will preach twice a day on week-days and three times on Sunday.

The Auditorium will no doubt be crowded to capacity during the entire stay of Mr. Sunday. People from various towns are inquiring regarding when he is to be here, and the possibility of their securing reservations so that they might have the opportunity of hearing this man who has preached to more people than any man who has ever lived, and who has done more good probably than any other man. His coming to this community will bring thousands of people from the surrounding towns and will be a great thing for the Triple Cities.

The organization is already underway; the ushers have been selected and the chorus, who are to have charge of the registration of those who come forward in the campaign are being selected with great care. The nursery is to be taken care of by the ladies of the W. C. T. U., and the chorus choir is being organized and it is expected that everything will be in ship-shape by the time Mr. Sunday reaches Daytona Beach.

Mr. Sunday is now in the last week of a great campaign at Fairmont, W. Va. The reports from that city tell of a great awakening and it is hoped by the local committee that everyone will enter into the spirit of the campaign and will do everything in their power to make it a success, since the time is short before Mr. Sunday will be in our midst. The time to begin work is now.

Chorus to Meet Wednesday
Director James Heaton, who has charge of the organization for the chorus choir during Billy Sunday's campaign, asks that all singers desiring to help in the chorus shall meet at the Auditorium on Wednesday night of this week at 8 o'clock. This is very important, since it is the only night which the choir can meet between this and the time of the campaign. There are many who are signifying their intention in helping in this way and the following names are but a partial list of those who will help in this great work:

Mrs. Percy Seager, Mrs. C. H. Hoyle, Mrs. J. C. Failing, S. H. Chickering, Mrs. Werner, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. E. T. Wilson, W. N. Manchester, Mrs. W. N. Manchester, Beulah Roney, Mrs. C. S. Red Cross Gains 772 Membership During Roll Call

Mrs. Lew Smith, secretary of East Volusia branch of the American Red Cross has completed her collections for the roll call held in Daytona a week ago Saturday, at which time $772, for 772 new memberships was collected. Port Orange reports the addition of 36 new yearly memberships, while Ormond and the colored section of Daytona have failed to report at this time.

The showing is a splendid one, considering the fact that but one day was devoted to the collection and no special drive made for funds, as the officials felt the public had given so splendidly to other causes that an extensive drive would not be called for.

The collection assures continued endeavor in Red Cross work locally, where great good is being accomplished daily by the Red Cross organization.

The Daytona Beach Seabreeze Red Cross Roll Call, which was also postponed last November, will be held late this month, when collections will be made in the beach towns for the work to be carried on here.

Farmers to Meet This Evening at Casino Burgoyne

The February meeting of the East Volusia Community Council of Agriculture will be held this evening at Casino Burgoyne, when several interesting speakers will address the farmers, and new life is expected to be injected into the organization, following the organization of the county bureau last week in DeLand.

Several matters will be discussed in connection with the Orlando Fair, which opens next week, when all members of the Daytona council will be asked to present exhibits. The Daytona portion of the fair, it is expected, will surpass any efforts of previous years.

The location of a sugar mill here, by the United Refining company, which has been discussed previously, will also be settled, it being necessary to secure 500 acres planted to sugar cane, before the location of the mill in this vicinity.

A number of other matters of vital interest to the farmers and truck growers of this locality will be discussed.

Commends Choice of Andrew Mellon as Secy. Treasury

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Mevis of Pittsburgh, who have a cottage at 425 North Atlantic avenue, are anticipating a trip to Tampa and St. Petersburg. Mr. Mevis says the business interests of Pittsburgh will be glad to have Andrew W. Mellon, president of the Mellon National bank, made secretary of the treasury by President-elect Harding. He says that Mr. Mellon is one of the successful financiers of the nation, having in ten years increased the assets of his bank from ten to fifty million dollars. "For many years the Mellon family have been prominent in Pittsburgh life," said Mr. Mevis. "They own the Ever-Wear aluminum plant near that city, which employs several thousand men and is said to be the largest of the kind in the country."

Anthony Brothers Furnish Valuable Dresses for Play

According to a report given out today by director of "Oh, Oh, Cindy!" the play which is being presented at the Auditorium, Daytona Beach, next Thursday afternoon and evening, nearly $1,000 worth of ladies' clothing is being furnished by Anthony Brothers. Although the John B. Rogers Producing company furnish all the fancy costumes used in the production, the street clothes and party gowns used will be borrowed from the Anthony Brothers store. This store has been very liberal and generous in their kind offers to allow the principals in the show to use their goods. The very best of everything will be used in making this one of the most gorgeous home talent plays ever staged in this community.

The furniture which will be used on the stage will be furnished by the Bingham and Maley furniture store. They are letting out some of their very best looking furniture.

Features of Fla. State Laws Ably, Fully Explained

Discussing subjects of interest to all enfranchised voters of the state, Herbert S. Sawyer, of Jacksonville, last evening gave a most instructive address before the Class of Instruction, at Guild Hall, the regular weekly meeting of the class, under the auspices of the Palmetto club.

Mr. Sawyer emphasized the new laws which went into effect this week, explaining at length the new features, and gave information of great interest on many other subjects pertaining to state laws.

Mr. Sawyer took the place of Mrs. T. T. Cotnam last evening. Mrs. Cotnam to bring the meeting to a close next Monday evening, following one of the most successful series of instruction classes ever conducted in the state, and meeting greatly appreciated by the newly enfranchised women of the Triple Cities.

"SOMETHING NEW" For Jaded Appetites

"Pappy's" Wedding of the Sugar and the Orange

DAYTONA, FLORIDA, the winter home of Eastern millionaires and the Mecca of tourists, with its stately royal palms, its moss-hung, century old oaks, its old fashioned shell road drives, is the place where Pappy, the "genius of the kettles," works his magic!

Pappy blends the sweet juices of cultivated yellow gold on oranges with the aromatic and pungent fluid extracted from the wild, sour oranges of Florida. Over the kettle, in a factory of spotless cleanliness, is performed the "wedding ceremony" of the sugar and the orange.

Pappy's Orange Marmalade is the "romance of the orange" done into a "bitter-sweet" surpassing in goodness anything of its kind—exquisitely piquant and delicately flavored. This peculiarly charming quality has made Orange Marmalade a national breakfast necessity in England.

The Bowers Stores, ever alert to solve the daily menu problems for their many friends and customers, have brought, for the first time, to Memphis Pappy's Orange Marmalade. It comes in convenient form and at prices within the reach of all.

With it they have brought from these "model kitchens" on the East Coast the famous Pappy's Guava Jelly. This is usually sent to the discriminating markets of New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Pappy's Guava Jelly is as "clear as crystal" and a newspaper may be read through the glass—a marvel in the art of jelly-making.

These two quality products are now on sale, and you are requested to try them on an "unrestricted guaranteed" basis.—J. M. F.

Thrilling Attempt Made to Rescue Drowning Man From Plane; Machine Is Wrecked

Risking his life in an attempt to save the life of a bather, who was reported drowning, Aviator Lynn C. Merrill narrowly escaped drowning and in the attempt, almost completely wrecked his airplane Monday afternoon in Atlantic, J. Algear, 19 year old boy, bather, rescued by others while Aviator Merrill was also saved, the plane being later towed ashore with little salvage possible.

The attempt at rescue was the most spectacular and thrilling feature of beach life this season, the aviator earning the warm hearted praise of hundreds of spectators.

Algear was bathing during the afternoon and while out near the end of the pier became caught in the undertow. He shouted for help and was seen struggling in the water, frantic efforts being made to launch a life boat to reach him, but without success, due to the breakers.

Merrill, who has been flying at the beach this season, noted the plight of the bather, and immediately took to the beach, swooping quickly over the struggling bather. A life preserver was carried in the plane, to be thrown to the bather when the plane reached a close proximity to the man in the water. While almost upon the drowning man the plane slipped suddenly out of a steep bank and plunged nose down in the ocean, the two men remaining in the plane as it rode the waves. Algear was quickly rescued and given first aid from which he recovered, all the men being picked up by Aviators Davies and Bill Lindley, who manned the life boat and helped to propel the almost swamped plane ashore, where, several hours later it was beached, with wings broken, and the engine flooded with salt water, rendering it almost useless.

Sympathy for the aviator who had risked his means of livelihood in an attempt to save the drowning man was expressed by everyone present. Aviator Davies immediately climbed the pier, and following a short speech in which he expressed the regrets of the crowd in the loss of Merrill's plane, commenced a subscription for funds to purchase a new plane for the wrecked one. Geo. F. Johnson, winter resident of Seabreeze, and head of Endicott-Johnson Shoe company of New York, started the ball rolling with a check for $500. Within a short time $1,500 had been raised, with possibilities of the amount being brought up to $2,000 the cost of the plane, which was wrecked in the noble attempt at life saving. The fund will be continued until the objective is reached, that Merrill may not be the sufferer for this act.

The work of A. W. Shaw, in efforts to salvage the plane received words of highest praise, after the accident. Mr. Shaw stripped, and, seizing a heavy rope, swam out to the plane, attaching the rope, making possible the hauling of the heavy machine to land, riding the waves.

Dr. M. L. Rudolph, of Clarksville, Tenn., made the suggestion that, since the plane was useless as a plane, that it be broken up, and parts sold as souvenirs to remind the spectators of the thrilling attempt at rescue. This plan met with instant favor, and a large number received small portions of the machine, in exchange for gifts toward the fund to purchase Merrill a new machine.

One unfortunate feature of the accident was the loss sustained by Aviator Merrill of many personal effects. As he saw the young man struggling in the water, Merrill threw a number of effects from his plane, in order to be more effective in a "dipping" rescue. A leather flying coat, helmet and goggles, he threw to the beach, as he was about to ascend. The articles were missing when the excitement was to have them returned, and asked that whoever might have picked them up, return them to him.

The spirit of co-operation of the beach aviators, in assistance rendered Merrill was greatly marked. No one of the huge crowd felt for Merrill, more than those who have been his competitors in the flying game.

That Merrill should have attempted such a rescue was quite natural for him, as he has four German planes to his credit during service in the aviation department of the army during the late war, where he made an enviable reputation as a careful, though daring flier.

It was a matter of congratulation that no one was drowned, or even seriously injured throughout the exciting moments of the rescue, Elgear being reported this morning in good condition, following his harrowing experience.

Clay Paths Being Provided for the 1921 Diamond

Diamond dust is being spread over the infield of the baseball park on City Island. During the off season Bermuda grass has had its way but now this is covered with rich green earth which should cause the grass to creep through and provide a fast infield for the opening game in April. This season the paths will be of clay, mixed with fine shell. This composition is being brought from the interior and is the same as was used last year at Orlando. This morning the paths were dug out to a depth of about three inches ready for the clay spreading.

Last year, it is said, that the black earth leading to the bases had a tendency to soil the uniforms of players who slid into the bags and as Manager Jack Martin hopes to make a spotless record this season it was thought best to install clay paths.

Although it was rumored that Jack Martin was "licked to death with the reception he received from fans here" he wishes to deny the implication that he is a dead one. He is full of pep and hopes and expects to line up the scrappiest aggregation of pill swatters that ever invaded the state. Judging by name, the old skilful should go welded with a vengeance as he includes in his roster a Mullin, a Denny, a McCarthy, a McCormick and a few others who are due to celebrate on March 17. The Emerald Isle produces good ball players as well as policemen and hod carriers, and if there are any Fastbriens in the league they are due for a good trimming at the hands of Manager Martin's Celtic tribe.

The Abigail Bartholomew chapter of the D. A. R. will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Gardner at 113 North Beach street, Daytona at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 3. Visiting daughters are welcome.

One of the most attractive places in the Triple Cities for the tourist who is living in his own apartments or for those living at any of the hotels in the three cities is the Lotus Club Grill Room of the Clarendon hotel. It is not convenient for many hotel dwellers to accommodate themselves to the regular meal hours of the American plan that predominates in the hotels. But the Lotus Grill Room is open every day from 10 in the morning until evening, and here the casual or regular visitor may secure the finest food and the best service. The grill is artistic in all its furnishings, and the service is prompt and efficient and will be found a deal place for the always popular afternoon tea or for the more substantial meal.

HOTEL ORMOND

Fishing Cameroun, Mann spent Sunday at the Hotel Ormond, and other guests to arrive recently are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ferry, Detroit; Mrs. Fred Ewing and Miss Katherine Landrum, Greenwich; H. A. Dyer, Englewood, expert, played over the Ormond links yesterday.

Mrs. J. Blake White is actively engaged getting things ready for the annual Valentine Sale and Fair at the Hotel Ormond Tuesday, the 5th, for the benefit of St. James church.

One of the sportiest golf contests of the season thus far at Ormond was a foursome between Mrs. B. Kellher of Dublin and Donn Byrne, Riverside, Conn., on one side, and Mrs. Byrne and Dr. A. M. Scott, Evansville, Ind., on the other. They came to the eighteenth green all square and halved that hole. They went on to the nineteenth where Mrs. Kellher and Mr. Byrne won with a par four.

Bob McAvoy and Jim McIntyre, the professionals, along with Donn Byrne, the Woodway amateur, beat a trio composed of Fred Merkle, Billy Moyer, professional and Matt Kiernan of New York. They won four up and three to go. The medal playing was a distinct improvement over the previous tilt of this nature, and the following cards were made: McAvoy, 79; McIntyre, 81; Merkle, 82; Moyer and Byrne, 83 each; Kiernan, no card.

Arrangements are under way for a golf contest on the beach on Friday from Daytona with the finish on the eighteenth green at Ormond, and for a professional exhibition with Barney Brady and McLeod taking part some day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storm of Wiloughby, Ohio, are comfortably located at 233 Silver Beach avenue. They are enthusiastic admirers of the beach and are here for the season.

Michigan Party Touring State in Neat House Car

Among the tourists who are enjoying the sunny south and asking no favors of hotels and very few of any others, whose business it is to serve the public, are Mr. and Mrs. Levi Sargent of Monroe county, Michigan. They are traveling in their house built on an auto chassis and with them are their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bruchman, also of Monroe county. They left their home on October 15 and have since that date covered over 3,000 miles in a leisurely manner and have enjoyed every bit of the way. They arrived in Daytona Monday morning, having come from St. Augustine. They have visited Miami, Palm Beach and many other places and will leave today for Tampa, St. Petersburg and the west coast. The car-house is a model of convenience and have everything necessary to modern life. The house is lighted by electricity, has comfortable beds, cupboard for dishes, closet for clothing, underneath a compartment for the necessities for doing the family washing, plenty of room for trunks, and so on. Mr. Sargent says that during the entire trip he has had one tire puncture, which represents all the car trouble that he has experienced. They expect to return to their northern home in March.

Advertising Man Takes Optimistic View of Future

Mr. and Mrs. Mark D. Batchelder of Peoria, Ill., are among the many interesting guests at the Seaside Inn. Mr. Batchelder is extensively engaged in the advertising game in about eighty cities of the North and is therefore necessarily close to all kinds of business interests. To a News representative he said: "Within sixty days I confidently look for a general revival of business throughout the country. Up our way no one thinks anything is going to seriously interfere with the prosperity of the American people. I know nothing about the conditions in the rest of the world. I have had many recent talks with our most extensive manufacturers and we have a good many such, and to a man they are optimistic as to the future. Not one is the least discouraged. Even our laboring men who are still out of work are not. They feel that their idleness is only temporary and they seem to be perfectly willing to adjust themselves to the necessary reconstruction conditions that were bound to come after the war had gotten everything upset and out of the regular order."

PRINCESS ISSENA

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lawson of Des Moines, Iowa, and Thomas Lawson were Sunday guests at the Princess Isseena.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Elmer and daughter, Miss Louise, were over Sunday guests at the Princess.

E. M. Webster and son and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baxter enjoyed a pleasant motor trip from Orlando Sunday and were guests at the Princess Isseena.

Harding, A. Greene of Ridgewood, N. J., is a recent arrival at the Princess.

Many of the business men in America after seeing other people have become permanent residents of Dryden and vicinity, have shown to their friends that investment funds are made in Dryden. These people appear to have no other choice. For instance, the United Bank in the vicinity of the Dryden National Bank has opened a branch in Dryden, and after opening one in other sections, they have made this the permanent office bank, and the bank is now the national bank of the vicinity.

When these people in America see, how they have the same thing, "nothing is more common in America and when they see a lot of people in the vicinity, they are making

Many of the foremost men in America after trying other places have become permanent residents of Daytona and vicinity, thus proving by their works that considered from all angles the Daytona section appeals to them as does no other place. For instance, the richest man in the world after trying Southern California for several years and then Georgia, and then spending two or three winters here, has made this his permanent winter home, and has built a beautiful residence on the Halifax.

Many others, leaders in American life, have done the same thing. Probably no other community in America can show such a list of prominent winter home owning residents.

Yesterday E. J. Perry of Detroit, Mich., found a pocketbook on Main street containing $600 in American Express company traveling checks made to William G. Marstrom. Mr. Perry at once left his find in the custody of the East Coast State bank for the owner, who is fortunate his belongings were found by an honest man.
